

Vanessa Nhan, R.P.F.

Darcy Ungar, R.P.F.

Sam Nsiah, R.P.F.

Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources and Forestry, Science and Research Branch

See the forest and the trees

Ying Hong, R.P.F.

Astrid Nielsen, R.P.F.

Janice Lam, R.P.F.

Catherine Edwards, R.P.F.

Lam Tran

Chart a sustainable career path as a Professional Forester

Choosing a career in forestry is a good match for those who love nature and want to make a real, positive impact on our environment.

Foresters are important in ensuring forests are sustainably managed and forest ecosystems remain resilient and healthy.

This career is not only about working with trees. It also involves protecting biodiversity and contributing to the fight against climate change.

Visit opfa.ca/future-foresters to learn more about becoming a Professional Forester.

